Independent.

Deboted to Agriculture, Mechanics, Arts, News, and General Liferafure.

W. ROBERTS, Editor and Proprietor.

OSKALOOSA, KANSAS, WEDNESDAY, JULY 11, 1860.

VOLUME L NO. L

MULTATULES!

Select Boetry.

LOVED AND LOST.

So gentle and so mild, Cold love a darling child; The Edon of my youth, her fest I learned the merit Of a loving mother's truth: of seed on earth alone, An orphen 'month a stranger's might. I wished my beart was stone.

And then I loved a maiden, Where I could pour my sighs: And through the seasoner weather, As we reassed the woodland hill, Our voices chimed together With the rippling of the rill. We were a happy pair, But the pawned her he

A baxon black eved girl. broke with but a touch, And is- I know not where.

With heart so full and pure. thought her more than human, was so kind to me. the was so kind to me. In mused me through all danger When sickness laid me low, and then she was no stranger To all my boyish wee, let time and tide will flow forever me two loves no power can sever, For they are all weal; For they are all weal; Yet Memory will leave me never,

And then I loved a daughter, A blomed little thing. As pure so in the water Of the ever living spring, he was so like my mother, We called her Melie too, but the has cought another Home above the blue. ened her loss with me med her for these many years, Yet Serrow wrings my hor and I quell these doubts and fear That keep us thus spart!

ISABEL. BY CLARA AUGUSTA. lim's a pressure ling'ring round me. Thin's a gentle one who's bound in With her witching spell; Sain with me ever, ever, at the leave me never, never;

Of thoughts of Isabel. to is with me when I'm sleeping. and her effect watch in keeping.
Whispering, "all is well!"
And in patient love she's waiting from this carth-sleep awaking. to meet the angel greeting Of long level leabel.

Mil am: they call age dreasy; but I fed not end or vecasy; My's streams, buoyant, well a my hours, for she is with me. and get that God could give me! al at last the will forgive me, idefind leabed.

TO HIS HOTHER.

ale limit did leep with joy as manuscum to rest,
draw life from the brownt!
district life from the brownt!
district life from the brownt!
district life from the brownt.
district life from the brownt,
district life no has placed his silvery mark far school hand! may Harven kindly bless may Harven kindly bless Victures of Bife.

DEATH OF LITTLE WILLIE.

We think the following pen picture of a death scene very fine and touch-

"Mother, Willie is going to join the angels. They have come to see me oh, so often. and presently they will take me away with them.'

A strange thrill went quivering to the mother's beart, but stilling the motions which filled her bosom, she inquired:

"How does Willie know he will go away with the angels?'

"One of them told me so. Oh, they are so beautiful! I shall delight to be with them! They are all dressed in such clean white robes, and their fac shine with brightness. Oh, how glad I shall be when I am an angel!"

"Is Willie so anxious to go away and leave poor mother?"

"Oh, I did not think of that!" and his sparkling eye filled with tears, while a shadow fell over the speaking face, which before had been so radiant. He put his little arms around her neck. drew her face down close to his, and pressed a kiss upon her cheek. He held her thus for a few moments, ther his thoughts ran back to the theme he had been conversing about, and he murmured in her ear:

"But oh, it is such a lovely place!" Closer the mother pressed her cheek to his, and the tears trickled silently down her face. When she lifted her head the traces of weeping were visible.

"Why do you cry, mother?" asked the child, as though it were a matter of surprise, that a journey to heaven should be a cause of sorrow to his dearest earthly friend.

to leave me, and never come back." she

"But I will come, mother. I have seen bright angels hovering over your head, and when I get to be an angel, I will come too; and oh, I'll kiss you then, and the kiss will be so soft you will never know it or feel it. But I think it will make you happy, if you don't know it; for when the good an gels have been near you, there has always been a look of joy or peace on your face.'

In spite of herself, the tears flowed afresh from the mother's eyes; but there was comfort mingled with her sorrow. The child's words had been as balm to

Much more passed between them or this and other occasions, and then the day dawned that was to be the last in in which the dear child should ever behold the sun with his natural eyee.

The severity of the disease was passed: he now suffered but little pain, but was gradually sinking away.

'I can not stay with you much lon ger,' he said to his mother in the afternoon. She wiped her eyes, but did not trust her voice to speak; for she knew that the fatal moment was rapidly approaching. After a pause of some considerable duration, during which he seemed to be thinking strange thoughts ed Willie. "And I know He will, for for a child so young in years, he re- you have blessed us so much."

"Bring me my toys, mother; I should went to the nursery and returned with her emotions. his toys. He requested to be propped up in bed and have them spread out before him. It was done. Then he took up each little plaything and examined it, telling some reminiscence connected with it in the past When he had looked at one until satis fied, he handed it back to his mother, you like, to remember Willie by."

nursery, and as she put them in their wo place, the long suppressed feelings aslittle treasures, exclaiming:

"Oh! how can I bear this trial?" its woe by abundant weeping, and then "Ah, that is nice!" he said: "I love its woe by abundant weeping, and then returned to the bed-side.

the last time his eyes should close in there." slumber, until they shut in that "sleep which knows no waking," until the hensive in fullness of meaning, sent a spell of death is broken by the voice of thrill of joy to the mother's heart. God, through the archangel, at the fu- "And this is the last time you will other were near him.

o Mr. Williams, he continued:

"But I should not be here now, you had not come to us that night, O you, and-" Williams, before I go away?"

verflowing eyes.

Willie next spoke to Alice: "You have been a sister to mother, end." and almost as good as a mother to me.

I will ask the good angels to come and room is light, but your eyes are grow-take care of you, as you have taken ing dim."

"It is the end now, Willie. The his bread by the sweat of his brow.

God the Father labored in the beginning. He made the Heaven's above, take care of you, as you have taken ing dim."
cure of us; and I know they will be She spoke calmly, for she did not and when you visit the sick. Ah, they cost her a powerful effort.

uncle take your place." have been describing. He now came ed them, and a bright smile overspread only can find way into the bosom of "They are coming!" age. He took Willie's hand in his. and his whole body trembled, so that he dare not trust his voice to speak.

so good to mother and us. I would vou to be sure and come where I am I_am_with_the_angels!" going. Will you, uncle?"

"God bless the child!" fervently exrefused longer to be held back.

"And God bless uncle, too!" rejoin

Then Elta came "Oh Willie! are you going to leave like to look at them once more before Elta forever?" she cried out in a burst Lord," and such are all little children With a heavy heart, Mrs. Howard face in the pillow, and gave way to er to play with then, and you will be all sione. I have thought of this, and felt like staying to be company for you, where did they find the Roman sentimel? They found him standing at the city gate with his hand still grassing the while, and then you will join us the war weapon, where he had been placed by his captain; and there where the heavens threatened him; there while heavens threatened him; there while the lava stream rolled he had been placed or dear mother much, and pray the heavens threatened him; there while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where the heavens threatened him; there while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where the heavens threatened him; there while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where while the lava stream rolled he had been placed by his captain; and there where there is an elevation of the spirit. It seems an elevation of the spirit. It seems as though these evits put be fishermen. Such as were his followers, or had believed on him would feel honored that their Lord should sit Thus he went through with them all.

Some that had been most highly prized he held long, and seemed to part from them with regret; and a few were prest.

Thus he went through with them all.

Some that had been most highly prized he held long, and seemed to part from them with regret; and a few were prest.

Thus he went through with them all.

Some that had been most highly prized he head at his post; and there, after a stood at his post; and there, after a thousand years had peased away, was the found. So let Christians learn to he found them, and they looked so happy when them, and they looked so happy when them, and they looked so happy when them with regret; and a few were prestigation.

Thus he went through with them all.

Some that had been most highly prized while the lave stream rolled he had neath us, were so many stepping atomes whereby the soul ascends into a high-level honored that their Lord should sit in their little craft while they rowed him in their tiny vessel from rillage to village. sed to his lips, ere he laid them aside forever!

No heart could witness such a scene you bowed down to say your prayers. I will come too; and when you kneel down to say your prayers. I will come too; and when you kneel placed them, and they will find that grace will support and sustain them.

Govern your team of the post on which their Captain has placed them, and they will find that grace will support and sustain them.

"Now, mother, take them all out of was around his neck, and her face presmy sight, and keep as many of them as sed against his. Thus she remained for some length of time, mable to Mrs. Howard took them back to the speak, and yet comferted by Willie's

"There, Elta," he said at last, "my serted their mastery, and with a gush strength is almost gone, and I must of tears, she leaned over the child's talk a little with mother. Kiss me, Mrs. Howard now came and laid her For a few minutes she remained there, arm under Willie; and liftles him up.

to get near your heart, mother, it al-Presently Willie fell asleep. It was ways seemed as if I were at home

This childish expression, so compreever hold Willie in your arms, until we The day was now far spent, and as meet where death never comes to dithe evening shadows began to gather vide us. O, it will be so delightful to the evening shadows began to gather vide us. O, it will be so delightful to tal life, and who seek the undying bliss first happy pair from the garden of the cure what pay, and among over the earth, Mr. Williams was sent live where we never say good bye! I of eternity. Onward! onward! ever Paradise. for, it having been his special request told you, mother, that I was coming to to see the child at the hour of dissolu- be near you. When you and sister are tion. When Willie awoke, the light of kneeling together in the morning, and day had departed, the room was illu- the evening, I will be there. And when mined by artificial means, and the five the stars begin to come out as it comfriends whom he loved most, Mr. Mel- mences to get dark, if you will sit by ville, Alice, Edward, Elta, and his my window, I will come and hover near you. I have seen those beautiful The rolling stone of vice is leading to "All here," he said; then turning children in heaven come to the earth the vortex of everlasting misery; but the to bless those they loved, and I know I rolling stone of virtue is leading to if can come. Just think that Willie sees how delicious that orange was! But His voice suddenly grew faint, and like virtue will gather a pure, immacuthey have sweeter fruit up there where stopping short in the midst of his words, late mids! Keep the stone rolling! the angels are. Wont you kins me, Mr. he began to sink heavily upon the breast It may be perilous for unguided, inexthat supported him.

He bent down and kissed the boy a "What makes it grow so dark, mothdozen times, and turned away with er?" he whispered presently. "I can upon the soil as if he grew from the near you when you teach Elts to pray, wish to disturb his quiet rest, but it are very near you then! Now you "Draw the clothes around me, mothmust kiss Willie too, and then let dear er. I am so cold!"

She did as requested, though she

And in a moment added:

"Do you see them, mother? They are almost here! They beckon to me! "Oh, how I love you, dear uncle,' 1 must go! Good bye, uncle, and Edsaid the boy, "because you have been ward, and Alice, and Elta! Good bye, mother! They are here! O beautiful! like to live with you always, and I want Kiss me, mother! Once more! There-

"I will try," the strong man made mur, and Willie was no longer of the so great as that which gives an indivialmost heavenly. claimed the old gentleman, as the tears and then fondly covered his brow and she forgets to govern her temper, and lins and cheeks with kisses! Tears flowed from every eye; but there was joy with their sorrow, for they felt that the place was very near

"Blessed are the dead who die in the

THE ROMAN SENTINEL .- When Pom-

Miscellaneous.

WORDS AND THOUGHTS

BY W. S. GAFFRET.

is the fruitful auxiliary of success. It the Christian, "Onward, my young lad," cross the faithful teacher, "if you wish to reach the temple of knowledge."

Onward! on the field of battle, is the mandate of victory and conquest. Onward! to the sinking mariner at the pump, is the whispering voice of hope. Onward! is the daily tautology of the toiling minister of the immortal word.

This allegory may be a faint traditional mandate of the purity of Eden.

Error never shows herself in her own bees mised the orcas of half, mained, and dumb puck, with the purity of the purity of Eden.

This allegory may be a faint traditional mandate of the purity of Eden. No cloubt their first words were securated to the purity of Eden. onward ! one and all.

The still bee gathers no honey-"The still flint strikes no spark-

Is not all this true ? Yes! But there is an absent proverb that a rolling stone gathers no moss." Well, if it be unproductive moss, 'tis as well: but son need no prompting as to a choice perienced youth, but to mature age we Should a man settle himself down scarcely see you. Don't let them shut earth like a tree? Should he be fastenoff the gas. I wish to see you to the ed on it like the rudder of a vessel? No! man was intended for an active. moving animal; and is destined to eat dark eyes of the child that came to great poet. "and men and women are actors." How true! Yes, and the world itself is an actor! The sun, moon, stars, and all the works of Nature, perform a part in carrying out the divine will of the great Architect of the universe. Labor then, is honest—is honorable—is God-like! whether great poet, "and men and women are actors." How true! Yes, and the Mr. Melville was not a Christian by knew he would never be warm again. moon, stars, and all the works of Naprofession, but his heart was deeply For a few minutes he lay quietly with ture, perform a part in carrying out ouched as he witnessed the scenes we his eyes closed, then he slowly open. the divine will of the great Architect have been describing. He now came ed them, and a bright smile overspread to take leave of the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does to take leave of the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does to take leave of the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does to take leave of the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does to take leave of the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does the child who had his pale face, as he looked upward it be mental or physical. Who does the child who had will see it.— O. Permit will see it. not despise the drones of the world's great bee-hive? Out upon them! They are impostors-they are thievesthey are traitors to a divine purpose !

THERE is no conquest so noble as that The voice died away to a soft mur- of self-command, no achievement more emphatically so of woman.

How unamiable a lady appears in the Gently the mother laid him down, eyes of her children or friends when allows anger to distort her; features or ill feelings to sour the expression of her countenance. We have often thought that if other-they felt that the place was very near wise amiable and good looking ladies the heavenly gates, and that Willie was could have the privilege of seeing themselves when thus under the dominion of bad feelings, the sight of their own distorted image would so shame them they would never transgress in that way ugain.

It is something very difficult to peii was destroyed, there were very ter a strong temper, especially where it many buried in the ruins of it, who were afterwards found in deep vaults time; but it can be done. A firm will could not be accomplished by an honest and open course. At length the long for opportunity to carry out ed herself in them. Ever since that time Truth has been naked, while Er-ror has stalked abroad in her stolen garb, to deceive the world.

laith to and sayings of the wise opes of old the Christian, "Onward, my young Error never shows herself in her own

Onward ! is the battle-cry of all who tionary account of the purity of Eden No cloubs their first words would realize the happiness of this mor- and the triumph of sin in expelling the thanksgiving to the biess d Savigs &

GONE TO SCHOOL.

I've got a big apple for you!"

How softly the tones of that pretty voice some floating down thro' the lapses of the years, bringing vividly to my mind the clear, bright winter morning when those children words were spoken. Picturing distinctly the frost-chrystals that glittered on field, led to the school house. Picturing, too, not then heal the sick or rustore the blind, the lame, the mained; oh se I this will be a far different meeting. He will then sit as Judge, and not as his distor. School themself, we must sit trailing along the garden fence. I can even see the column of smote siding attend the summe from the chimney and floating upward through the still, cold air of morning.

But it was not because the day was fair that I remember it so well, for its sunshine was not so golden as the curls, nor its frost-chrystals so bright as the meet me; nor did the rosy fruit he of-fered rival the beauty of his blooming saved by injudicious watering. Many

I was your teacher once, Georgy, and you believed and trusted me. In your clear eyes I read perfect faith.— Oh, how wise beyond earth you must commends the use of gas-tar, put in bottles hung among the branches of the my rest and dream of the child that level me. Tell me not of a mossy morning found our plums stung, as we out to say.

"And if you try I know you will get there, for it is such an easy road to travel, and the bright angels will always help you, when you come to a of halo, which gave it an expression out to say.

"And if you try I know you will the delightful smile still lingered on his face, and his whole countenance a man carried away by his own temper, so that he has no apparent control of himself, and what is true of man is more irrational than to see a man carried away by his own temper, so that he has no apparent control of himself, and what is true of man is more irrational than to see a man carried away by his own temper, so that he has no apparent control of himself, and what is true of man is more irrational than to see a man carried away by his own temper, so that he has no apparent control of himself, and what is true of man is more irrational than to see a man carried away by his own temper, so that he has no apparent control of himself, and what is true of man is more irrational than to see a man carried away by his own temper, so that he has no apparent control of himself, and what is true of man is more irrational than to see a man carried away by his own temper, so that he has no apparent control of himself, and what is true of man is more irrational than to see and a sunken mound, over which the plumes of the aster, purple and heavy, are bending beneath the night breeze. Georgy is not there, for le went to school long ago.

Lebanon. O. Message Bird.

A 'THREE DAYS' MEETING.

through their instrumentality; and while we would not speak disparagingly of their labor's or talents, yet they dwind dle into insignificance when compared to the great I reacher that the Scriptular Society, London, A variety him in their tiny vessel from village to

How eager must have been the re ple to heat the preacher; and the should they not, when no loss a part in ige than the King of Kings would address them. How eager when at so short notice, four thousand men, wi h their wives and children and listensial to his to chings ! Ab, that was inde and how strange they felt when wells

what wonder filled heir

HAVERSTRAW, N. Your Inch Lot

Farm and Rousehold

Watering Trees It and 181

the earth. He formed man, too, out of the dust of the earth, and destined him for labor in his mortal sphere.

"The world is a stage," said the "Going to school next summer," out its buds and leaves to tigorius.

At the present time, the enrealing is destroying our crop of plums, necta-Show us the humble toiler, the man upon whose humble brow rests the mark of toil, and we'll point you to the "noblest work of God."

Oh, how wise beyond earth you must be now, my darling! Plead with your prines, &c., and we know of ho sure preventive. Everything new in this line has proved, so far, but a new humschool some time. Plead for me that I may come there some time; plead for jar the limbs, letting the insects fall on the control of plums, nectative, and we know of ho sure preventive. Everything new in this line has proved, so far, but a new humschool some time. Plead for me that I may come there some time; plead for jar the limbs, letting the insects fall on the limbs in the limbs. close thy book, pale-handed Memo-

The l'atent Office is in receipt of information from England in regard to formation from Engiand in traising fruit in what are termed orchard houses, by planting small trees in pots. W a hear frequently of the large suddiences of a Spurgeon or Guin-ness, and of the numbers converted that is necessary to constitute a house to the great Preacher that the Series cultural Society, sometimes tures tell us of more than eigheteen of young dwarf fruit trees were placed of young twelve to feurteen inches In Matt. 15, 31-30, we have a grain diameter, and as many as the house phic description of a meeting of three well hold were collected in it. This days duration being held by our Savior, house is spanned-roof, between fifty "Yes, Elta dear, I will soon be gone, where you can see me no more in this world. You will have no little brother to play with then, and you will be at the streets as if they had been attemptical silence. I have thought of this, and all alone. I have thought of this, and control of the streets as if they had been attemptical silence. There were some found who were in the streets as if they had been attemptical silence. There were some found who were in the streets as if they had been attemptical silence. There were some found who were in the streets as if they had been attemptical silence. I have thought of this, and in lofty chambers. But the staving to be company for you.

The success attending this experiment of the properties of the most pleasing emotions. The fault was the beautiful as the properties of the royal preacher. No gilded the doors, which fall down in the wooden seems found in lofty chambers. But the staving to be company for you.

The success attending this experiment the breast, is the staving to be company for you.

Dwarf trees, when planted harte forever!

No heart could witness such a scene unmoved, and those around the bed only restrained their emotions by a powerful effort, for they did not wish to interrupt the child in this strange coremony of leave-taking; but their tears flowed freely.

The sister had drawn closer and now her arm flowed freely.

The post on which their Captain has placed them, and they will find that grace will support and sustain them.

TRUTH AND ERBOR.

I will come too; and when you kneel do not the poop to the mountain be mit down and them to move the glorious are the people toiling up the hill thank God. Be a good girl, Elta, and some individuals is, that the former blow only in summer, the latter all the time.

The sister had drawn closer and closer and closer to her brother, and now her arm blowed freely.

The sister had drawn closer and closer to her brother, and now her arm blis children.— Message Bird.

The sister had drawn closer and closer to her brother, and now her arm blis children.— Message Bird.

The sister had drawn closer and closer to her brother, and now her arm blis children.— Message Bird.

The sister had drawn closer and closer to her brother, and now her arm blis children.— Message Bird.

The sister had drawn closer and closer to her brother, and now her arm blis children.— Message Bird. not very rich, and who not